

part was vested in a Board of Commissioners, of whom the Secretary of the Treasury is always one. About six hundred and fifty thousand dollars of this money was invested in the stock of the late Bank of the United States, and the dividends arising from it employed in paying those entitled to pensions. When the present Bank of the United States was chartered by Pennsylvania, Mr. Biddle and his Board of Directors so managed as to transfer all the debts and the property of the late Bank of the United States, to the present bank, which assumed the debts of the old bank. The late Bank of the United States now pays no dividends; and the new one has refused, until very lately to pay either the principal of the navy and privateer pension funds, or the interest justly due them. By this unjust course, the poor widows and children dependent on these funds, procured by the life blood of their husbands and fathers, have been deprived of their daily bread, and thrown destitute on the cold charities of a selfish world, while the great money god of the whigs was rioting in luxury. The Secretary of the Treasury made repeated demands on Mr. Biddle for the payment of the money; to all which he turned a deaf ear. At length the cries of the maimed soldiers of our glorious naval warfare, and of the widows and orphans of the slain, reached the ears of Mr. Noah, editor of the New York Star; and thinking it a fine chance for an accusation against the administration, he asked the Globe to inform the public what had become of the pension funds, and whether the deposit banks had swallowed them up, as well as the public money. In reply to this question, the Globe gave a full account of the matter, which placed Mr. Biddle before the public in such an unenviable attitude, that he immediately agreed to pay a part of the money.

CHEERING.—The following information from the Ohio Statesman, is really cheering to the friends of republican principals. We would inform our friends of the Statesman that all is steadfast, in this part of the State. All determined to sustain the Government of their country, and its officers, at all hazards.

We have again and again stated, that we never saw so great unanimity of feeling and devotion to the cause of Democracy in our party, as at the present time. Self is entirely thrown aside, and each one asks "what can I do to best preserve the liberties of my country, and protect the nation against Bank rule and domination." The friends of a sound constitutional currency are every where in motion, and the rag Baron and shin-plaster politicians, will be taken prisoners as sure as they enter the field for battle. A number of Whigs that have conversed with us seem fully disposed to throw off their party trammels, and go in for self-protection, and self-preservation. This is a noble resolution, and if we cannot eradicate the evil, let us modify, lop off, or regulate it, so as to parry off the storm as much as possible. We would be the most ardent slaves in the world not to do this, we will add a new lustre upon the character of freemen to accomplish it.

CORRECTIONS.

We have received notice from Mr. James Hazard, who we stated last week, had ordered his paper discontinued without paying arrears, saying that he had paid our agent. We would publish his letter were it not written in such indecent, disgusting language. The gentleman seems much riled at our exposition, and had he pursued the proper course to inform us of our mistake, we should feel grieved at the supposed injury. After having furnished him with the paper some months without hearing from him, and receiving a paper from the post office with the word "refused" written upon it, without giving any reason why, we felt disposed to let him know that something more was necessary. We often receive papers returned by Post Masters with no reason for returning it, and with nothing but the word "refused" written upon them, and in such cases we shall always expose the person, whoever he may be. Had Mr. H. informed the Post Master that he had paid the agent, there could have been no mistake. Beside Mr. H. received the paper some weeks after the time for which he had paid the agent, as appears by his own showing, for which we expect him to pay.

The following statement, furnished by the Canal Collector of this Port, D. H. Bardsley, Esq., shows that the Canal is not quite a solitude.

From the Ohio Statesman. COMPLETE DEMOCRATIC TRIUMPH.

The strong hold of whiggery in Michigan has been in the city of Detroit.—(and it is about cities and towns that whiggery congregates.) A contested election lately took place for Sheriff in the County in which Detroit is situated, and which resulted in the complete triumph of the democratic candidate. The Free Press speaking of the result says, that "they" (the whigs) "can now see that panic electioneering can avail them nothing."

N. B. Notes on all solvent Ohio Banks taken for taxes: no notes on foreign Banks taken but at the discretion of the Treasurer.

The Treasurer would again respectfully suggest to those who have the means, whether it would not be a mutual accommodation to themselves and Treasurer, should they embrace an earlier opportunity to pay their taxes, and prevent the confusion consequent upon crowding so great an amount of business into a few of the last days of receiving taxes. Persons will please to come furnished with CHANGE as it will be impossible for the Treasurer to be provided, at all times, if the present scarcity continues.

PROPOSALS

FOR PUBLISHING AT RAVENNA,

PORTAGE COUNTY, OHIO,
A Semi-Monthly Agricultural Paper
TO BE ENTITLED

The Western Agriculturist,
AND FARMER'S
AND MECHANIC'S REGISTER.

THE Subscriber, believing that the Farming interest of the Western Reserve is sufficiently great to sustain an Agricultural Paper, proposes publishing, at Ravenna, Portage County, a paper devoted exclusively to that subject.

The fact is now clearly demonstrated, that Agricultural Papers are of great advantage to the Farming Interests of a country. In New England and in New York, where the art of Agriculture is carried nearer to perfection than in any of the other States of the Union, there are several papers devoted to that subject which have a wide circulation.

Though the population of the Reserve consists chiefly of Farmers, yet there is not a paper designed entirely for their interests, while there are no less than twenty-eight political and religious papers.

The Agriculturist will be strictly neutral in politics and religion—it will contain a correct statement of the markets, and give that information most useful to the interest of farmers.

The great improvements which are now occupying the attention of the Farming Public—the many new inventions in the implements of husbandry which are continually appearing, render it highly necessary that all who are calculating to carry the business to a great extent should be possessed of the earliest information on the subject. Now, when the culture of Silk, and the growth of the Beet for the manufacture of Sugar is becoming the engrossing topic of the age, it is important that the Farmers of the Reserve should be made acquainted with all the information to be had on the subject, and we shall give our attention to the procuring and disseminating knowledge of these interesting objects.

The first number will be issued some time in April, if a sufficient number of subscribers shall be obtained to warrant it.

EDWIN R. SELBY,

Ravenna, Feb. 1, 1837.

TERMS.
This paper will be printed semi-monthly, on good type and fine paper, in a suitable form for binding, with a title page and index to each volume, at the close of the year, for one dollar per annum, in advance, (payable on delivery of the first number.)

SUPPLEMENT TO THE GLOBE.

PROSPECTUS FOR THE CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX

SENSIBLE of the deep interest which must be felt throughout the Union in the proceedings of a new Congress, convened by the new administration, to meet the extraordinary emergencies which have arisen since the close of General Jackson's term of service, the undersigned have already made preparations to furnish their annual report in the form of a Congressional Globe. As these successive publications comprise a full and faithful record of all that is done in Congress—sketches of the attendant discussions, with an Appendix containing the finished speeches prepared by the members themselves—they are suited not only to gratify the curiosity of the hour, to inform the distant constituency of the part performed by their immediate representatives, and of the result of the labors of all; but, we doubt not, they will be found permanently useful as the most authentic, complete, and convenient parliamentary record of our times. This undertaking having, with these views, been liberally patronized by the public, it is our purpose to justify this early and continued favor, by increasing the strength of corps of Reporters at the next fall and winter Sessions. The Fall Session will be looked to by the country to settle all that has been unsettled by the overthrow of the system of Deposits established by Congress—the overthrow of the currency as established by the Constitution—and the overthrow of the system of revenue, both as means of adequate supply for present demands, the maintenance of manufactures, and the regulation of commerce. Every thing of pecuniary interest to the Government and of the nation will be involved
